

Interview with...

Eugen Mitjajew Product Management Specialist

How did you come to us?

In 2006, I was looking for an apprenticeship as a wholesale and foreign trade merchant; that's when I came across TTL Network. After successfully completing my training, I was taken on and have been with TTL Network ever since. I also completed an evening course of study at the Chamber of Industry and Commerce to obtain my degree in business administration.

What are your tasks with us?

I work for TTL Network as a Product Management Specialist. My main tasks include the development and maintenance of our standard portfolio as well as the development and introduction of new products so that they remain state-of-the-art and we can offer innovative solutions.

In the selection and development of new products, I am in constant contact with the sales representatives and our partners and provide them with advice in order to find a suitable product solution. In addition, I work hand in hand with our marketing department to present our products in the best possible way.

What do you like about TTL Network?

I like the fact that I can gain experience with a wide variety of industries, because our partners come from a wide variety of sectors and areas. In my job, I have a completely free hand; I can work independently, develop concepts and try them out. If I get stuck, the team tries to find a suitable solution together.

What has been your highlight so far during your time at TTL Network?

My first trip to Asia. It was on this trip that my enthusiasm for the industry and its products was awakened.

Please add: The #TTLfamily for me is...

Work freely and creatively on projects as part of a team, and the opportunity to be involved on all fronts.
